For those who didn't make it in time to register for Sundance Film Fest Individual Tickets, you can still get some through their open ticket sales. Show up at one of the main box offices between January 18-31 or purchase tickets directly online.

Online tickets are offered 36 hours before showtimes and can be purchased

January 18-29, 2010.

As anticipation of the annual Sundance Film Festival builds, locals can already get into the spirit.

The Sundance Store is now open at the Gateway Center (136 Heber Ave, in the same building as Jean Louis' restaurant) and it's cool! Every item in the store is either recycled or organic. Check out the organic cotton and polyester tees (really soft and neat graphics) for $28 - $32, all manufactured in Sandy, Utah by a local company; journals created from old Sundance film catalogs; tote bags and messenger bags fashioned from the film fest banners that hung around town last year and more. There's a great selection of kids' items as well as hats, coffee mugs, beanies, magnets and more. The store managers, Erika and Elise will help you with a smile. Go to sundance.org/tickets for store hours and enjoy.

A new restaurant, Talisker on Main, recently opened at 515 Main Street in Park City. This is the first facility that Talisker has made accessible to non-members and is said to feature the service standards and elaborate design typically available only to those buying into their exclusive residential clubs. Talisker on Main features the award-winning cuisine of Executive Chef John Murcko and contains a large main dining room, a private wine room, a screening room and a four-season patio and garden. The design was inspired by classic cafes from the 1920's. Reservations can be made by calling 435.658.5479.

The Park City Quick START registrations for this season have, so far, exceeded the 2008/2009 numbers. START stands for "Ski Today and Ride Today" and the program lets you convert your airline boarding pass into a same-day lift ticket to the Park City resort of your choice. It's your chance to get a free same-day lift ticket at Deer Valley Resort, The Canyons Resort, or Park City Mountain Resort. Black-out dates are from December 25 - January 2. The U.S. Ski and Snowboard Association has named ten men and three women to the World Junior Championship Team to compete in nordic combined and ski jumping following final trials last week in Lake Placid. Two of those stellar athletes are brother-sister Nick and Sarah Hendrickson of Park City. It's Nick's first year on the U.S. Nordic Combined Ski Team. Sarah, the top American on the Continental Cup this year, headlines the jumping team. Park City Magazine profiled Sarah in our "Local Color" section last winter (click here to see this article). The World Junior Championships are set for Jan. 25-31 in Hinterzarten, Germany. Park City will cheer on the Hendrickson clan in full force!
